American Public Power Association Features Flynt Group

Kansas City, MO – December 3, 2004 – The Flynt Group, Inc., announced today that the American Public Power Association (APPA) has invited Flynt Group's President, Dr. Bill Flynt to provide the keynote address at its annual Engineering and Operations Technical Conference in Memphis, Tennessee, April 18-20, 2005.

The American Public Power Association (<http://www.appanet.org>) is the service organization for the nation's more than 2,000 community-owned electric utilities serving more than 43 million Americans. It was created in 1940 as a non-profit, non-partisan organization with the purpose to advance the public policy interests of its members and their consumers, and provide member services to ensure adequate, reliable electricity at a reasonable price with the proper protection of the environment.

Flynt stated "We are always delighted and honored to support APPA. It's a great organization that is helping make a real difference in promoting the security of the electric power infrastructure. We have worked with several of their members and we are proud to continue this important relationship."
