National Laboratory Retains Flynt Group

Kansas City, MO – June 24, 2005 – The Flynt Group, Inc., announced today that the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory has retained it to conduct strategic planning and business process development in support of a major security program.

Pacific Northwest National Laboratory (PNNL) is one of nine US Department of Energy multiprogram laboratories (<http://www.PNL.gov>). PNNL delivers breakthrough science and technology to meet key national security needs and other challenges.

Flynt Group's President, Dr. Bill Flynt, LTC(R) stated "PNNL is one of our Nation's crown jewels in science and technology. We are honored to have been selected to assist with the strategic planning efforts in this important initiative to safeguard complex systems from attack. The scope of this program includes enhancing security processes across all critical infrastructures and the scale has global implications."
